Program for February 13, 2007: Jack S. Hammer, Christmas Lights on University Ave.

Notes from last meeting, February 6, 2007: Rajan Shukla, Global Warming. Pollution thickens atmosphere which keeps warmer air in. The more CO2 in the air, the warmer the temperature. As water temps go up, wind velocities go up creating more intense, longer lasting hurricanes. Deforestation contributes a great deal of CO2 to the atmosphere.

Editor's note: I sensed some skepticism in the crowd during Rajan's talk. I know I'm not informed on the subject of global warming. His presentation was pretty and the info was startling; however, I would welcome further discussion on the topic. Any takers?

Here are some web sites on global warming; if anyone has more, let me know or pass them on to the group (all@madisonhorizonsrotary.org):
